INTRODUCTION

---

My name is Gary P. Levin. I have an MBA with a Master of Laws in Health Law in addition to being a JD with a BA in psychology. I was motivated to pursue an MBA to increase my understanding of the financial dimensions of business and enhance my leadership skills while I was employed as CEO of a brain injury rehabilitation program. During my tenure I became motivated to study law to increase my functional capacities and amplify my communication and analytical skills. I was internally motivated to continue my legal education to gain a critical mastery of rules and regulation of the health industry. In the future I would like to secure employment in the education or health field that allows me to combine both my management and legal skill sets.
